

Certificate of Religious Practice at Stanmore and Canons Park Synagogue in 2016

For admissions into most Jewish schools, parents are required to present the school with a Certificate of Religious Practice form (CRP) or a Supplementary Information Form (SIF). The CRP confirms Synagogue attendance, over a required amount of dates, as stipulated on the form. The SIF confirms knowledge of the family's religious observance by completion of a questionnaire by a Rabbi. Different Jewish schools use either CRP or SIF. The majority of schools use CRP. The form/s are available through each school's website, or office - Stanmore Shul do not provide you with the form/s.

If you need a SIF completed, please bring it to the Shul office and we will endeavour to get it completed by the Rabbi.

If the school you are applying to uses the CRP system, please see below.

CRP Registration – begins May 7th 2016

In 2016 for administration of the CRP (Certificate of Religious Practice) you must sign up in advance with the office (020 8954 2210), your child's name will be placed in 'the red box'. Your child must attend a children's service each shabbat (except if attending a simcha in the main shul) and show themselves to the person manning the red box. It is your responsibility to find the person who will be in the children's service.

Please note that different school CRP forms have different dates. This system will cover the year, but your particular school may have requirements for a set number of attendances, within a 6-month timeline. Please be aware of what your school/s require/s.

Assessment

Each week that you attend will be subsequently entered into our system

Shul attendance

Please note that Shul attendance implies the family are attending a service in shul, including children's services, for a period of time deemed reasonable by our assessors.

Certificate of Religious Practice Forms

As soon as your child's attendance has been confirmed, and the required attendances completed, please bring the relevant CRP Form/s from the school/s that you are applying for to the Shul office and we will endeavour to get them signed and returned to you in good time. It is your responsibility to ensure that you meet any required deadline dates, so please be aware of your deadlines.

If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to contact the Shul office on 020 8954 2210.

Kind regards
